ANTIOCH INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN FEDERAL FUND

Is Given Chance to Build Community Hall in PWA Work Relief Plan

With the invitation of the Federal government to participate in the $4,000,000 PWA work relief fund, Antioch has been given the opportunity to construct a Community Hall and public park, it is learned through communication from C. M. Osborn, acting state director of Public Works Administration.

According to the information received, the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works will consider any local project which will improve public welfare and give work to labor living in the community. A project such as a Community Hall and public park is included in the classifications. The communication states: Grant 45 Percent.

"We are accepting applications for loan and grant or for grant only. The grant will be forty-five percent of the cost of the project. The interest rate will be four percent which is to apply on all loans." An analysis of the offer indicates that the Federal government will donate 45 percent of the project's cost as a gift providing the Village pays 55 percent of the cost. The government, however, will arrange a loan to the Village equalling 55 percent of the estimated cost which the Village will repay to the Federal government at an interest rate of but 4 percent.

Since word of the offer was received here, plans have been considered for a gigantic mass meeting to discuss the project publicly.

Abolish Relief Rolls. Civic leaders and organizations are believed to be giving more than passing interest to the project as it will not only provide jobs for the community's unemployed, thereby abolishing the local relief rolls, but also improve the community welfare by the erection of a modern Community building and public recreational center in Antioch.

Heretofore, it is pointed out, the task of raising sufficient money has stood in the path of such a community project while this project merely puts the money spent in relief by investing in public improvements which will provide work for those receiving relief.

This means that more than 100 in the township, who were supported by the community through State and Federal emergency relief last year, would have the opportunity of supporting themselves and helping the community at the same time.

STATE ARCHERY CHAMP TO BE CROWNED AT NIELSEN'S SUNDAY

Bow and Arrow Marksmen Will Vie for Honors at Popular Resort

Real archery skill will be seen at Louis Nielsen's Barbecue Sunday afternoon when many of the best bow and arrow marksmen in the middle west will vie for state championship honors in the Belgian style archery meet starting at two o'clock.

The meet is free to all, and anyone who can handle a bow and arrow is eligible to enter the contest, those directing the meet have announced. This is the first tournament of the kind to be held in this locality in recent years, and the contest is expected to attract a large number of on-lookers, as well as a throng of spectators. The meet was arranged some weeks ago when a group of Belgians from Chicago chose Nielsen's stand at the intersection of Route 69 and Grass Lake road as an ideal site for the tournament.

Bert Odett, Spanish War Veteran, Buried

Last rites were held for Bert Odett of Antioch in Strang's funeral home Monday following his death Saturday with the Rev. C. Holden, pastor of the Millburn church, presiding at the ceremony.

Mr. Odett, who was a Spanish-American war veteran, made his home for many years with Dr. and Mrs. Spencer Brown on Ida avenue, Antioch, his former employer. The ceremony was assisted by the American Legion members with Interment at Millburn cemetery. The deceased had no relatives in the locality.

Rain! Rain! Rain! Sixteen Rainy Days Soaks "Sunny" June

Those "occasional" showers in the north portion, Mr. Weather Prophet has been advertising for this area put the natives to a loss as they stepped out-of-doors to encounter enough moisture to drown them—a little!

Just sixteen June days brought rain in the 27 passed to date providing the wettest June since the Prohibition days of June, 1924, when the Fox river went on a rampage, the lakes rose to flood the roads and countryside and the world-famous Lotus beds were destroyed to the extent that it has required 10 years for them to regain their former splendor and beauty.

And they say "rain makes flowers pretty"—maybe so!

C.L.A.C. NIPS STARS IN WEEKLY TILT, 8-7

Channel Lakers Overcome Keulman's Softballers in Final Session

The Channel Lake softballers set themselves a little more firmly on the Township victory throne when they took charge of the weekly tilt with Keulman's Antioch All-Stars Friday by bagging a pair of runs in their final time at bat to win an 8 to 7 verdict.

The local satellites gleamed bright with a 7 to 0 lead, following some heavy stick-work by Billy Keulman and John Murphy against Ray Sorenson's delivery in the first four innings; but the Channel Lake hurler's gleaming double with two mates aboard turned the gleam into an eclipse of the stars.

Elmer Smith, Dick Folbrink and Gene Sheehan were among the ring-leaders who conspired with extra-base hits off Keulman's pitching to add to the woes of the All-Stars.

According to current information, the Channel Lake team will make its formal entrance into the night softball league under the electric lights Monday night at Renshan's arena at Round Lake.

Milk Production At Peak, PMA Reports

Almost 17 1/2 million extra pounds of milk over the previous month was delivered by Pure Milk Association members in May, according to figures released today by the Association Marketing Department.

This additional seasonal milk swelled the May milk delivery total to 125,221,044 as compared with 110,781,198 pounds delivered by Association members in April. The peak seems to have been reached. With shorter pastures and flies production will undoubtedly drop.

Actual figures show that Association members received $2,205,401.96 for all milk delivered in May as compared with $2,104,842.76 for milk delivered in April.

State Gasoline Tax Equals $117.69 Per Vehicle Since 1919

An amount equal to $117.69 for every licensed motor vehicle in the state has been collected in gasoline taxes by Illinois since this form of levy first went into effect, in 1919, according to figures just released by J. T. Cavanagh, secretary of the Chicago Motor club.

His statistics reveal a grand total of $172,201,280 in gasoline taxes by the state collectors. The Federal government has collected $44,976,085 during the three years the Federal levy has been in effect on motor vehicles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frank of Fond du Lac, Wis., were calling on friends in Antioch Saturday.

ILLINOIS COINS TOKENS TO PAY NEW SALES TAX

Make Split-cent Aluminum "Money" to Be Circulated July 1

Aluminum "money" will make its appearance in Antioch Monday for paying the Illinois retailers' tax when it is hoisted from two to three cents, according to an announcement of Knowledge L. Ames, Jr., director of finance.

The tokens, coined in one and a half mill denominations—the exact tax on a 6-cent sale—will prevent overcharges on fractional sales.

Between ten and twenty-five million of the tokens will be sold to merchants in the State, who, in turn, will hand them to their customers in making change for a tax charge of less than an even penny, Ames explained. He said:

"The tokens will be round and smaller than a dime. Coining them of aluminum in mill and a half denominations avoids any danger of counterfeiting. A counterfeiter would have to make 70,000 of them to get $100 at face value and his metal and labor would leave little profit."

The 1-cent tax increase, effective July 1, will be used to finance the State's share of relief.

Antioch Aces Nod To West Side, 4-3

A comedy of 10 errors marred a mound feud which saw the Antioch Aces drop a baseball contest to Waukegan's West Side A. C. Sunday. The score was 4 to 3.

The Waukeganites took a one run lead in the first inning with Antioch tying it in the third, and taking a one run lead in the sixth. Another tally in the seventh, plus two in the ninth provided the victory. The lineup:

John Turner, Noted Medical Authority, Buried at Antioch

Funeral services for Dr. John Arthur Turner, 52, who died June 19, at the Deaconess Hospital in Cincinnati where he was a staff member, were held Saturday afternoon from Strang's funeral home with burial in the family lot in East Fox Lake cemetery. The Rev. J. E. Charles conducted an Episcopal service, assisted by members of the American Legion. Dr. Turner, who was born on July 1, 1882, in Benton (now Zion City), was educated in the public schools of Antioch where he later practiced medicine for two years. He received his degree in pharmacy from Northwestern University and his medical degree from the University of Illinois in 1909.

Dr. Turner started gaining national recognition in medicine as a Captain during the World war, serving as sanitarian of Camp Jackson, Columbia, South Carolina. Following the armistice he was appointed on the U. S. Public Health Service at Washington, D. C. Later he became a member of the Academy of Medicine of Cincinnati and the medical staff of Deaconess Hospital.

$5,500,000 GIVEN BY HOLC AS AID TO COUNTY HOMES

Loans to 1,451 Persons Save Residences Faced with Foreclosure

Cash totalling $5,500,000 was turned into Lake country through the Home Owners' Loan Corporation since Congress created that corporation to aid home owners who faced the loss of their dwellings through foreclosure during the last two years.

This is revealed in records of the Lake-McHenry counties sub-district office of the HOLC in Waukegan where 1,451 persons in this section had consummated loans prior to the middle of November.

Most of the $5,500,000 went into immediate circulation in Lake county to pay delinquent and due taxes, re-finance mortgages, catch up on past due installments and to make various improvements on the homes. L. Elmer Hulse, sub-district manager, points out:

Since the additional appropriation was granted to the HOLC by Congress in May, 300 applications for home loans have been made of which more than half have already been considered. The deadline for any further applications in the Waukegan office is today (June 27) at midnight.

Since its inception two years ago, the HOLC have made $70,893 loans on urban homes in the United States for a total of $2,628,072,349, the office at Washington announce. This means that since active lending operations started in August, 1933, the HOLC have closed loans at the rate of 23 million dollars each week.

McMillen Rising To Title Match; Signs Blank Pact

James McMillen, Antioch's contribution to the wrestling business, has signed a blank contract with Promoter Sam Ambruscato of Western stadium in an effort to meet any heavyweight living capable of putting up a decent scrap.

McMillen, knowing that he must trounce topnotchers to get a change at the Jim London championship crown, signed the contract even before he asked who his opponent would be. In his last four appearances in the Rogers Park arena, McMillen has whipped such headliners as Ole Olson, Jack Smith, Mehmet Yoneli, and Able Coleman.

Ambruscato will probably pick the Antioch giant's next foe from "Ory-baby" George Zaharias, "Dead-pan" Fred Grobmer, or "Handsome" Roland Kirchmeyer who is just off the campus of Oklahoma A. and M. college.

"C'Mon In! The Water's Fine!" But Be Careful!

Drowning again takes the grim stage at headline of summer fatalities, says the safety division of the Illinois Agricultural Association. The first swim of the year, unaccustomed muscles, over-confidence, and the "grim reaper" chalks up another name.

Swimming is wonderful exercise and sport. But like anything else, it must be taken gradually just like a baseball player has to "break in his arm." The big difference is that a sore arm will heal and too often, even modern methods fail to revive a drowned person.

Don't swim right after eating. Wait a couple of hours. Don't jump into the water when you're overheated. Even if you can swim, don't cut up "monkeyshines" in a boat. If you're alone, it's bad enough. If you're not, the other person may pay a terrible price for your clowning. If you can't swim, don't go out in a small boat unless someone is with you who can swim. Keep young children away from the water unless you are with them. By all means teach them to swim at an early age. It will build them up and save you as a parent or guardian many hours of worry when they grow older.

Bishop Stewart to Visit Antioch Sunday

Hoodlums Pilfer Money-Machine At Koukol's Inn

"Take it easy, folks! Sit down! And you won't get hurt!" Those were orders last Thursday night at 10:30 o'clock in Koukol's tavern on route 173, two miles west of Antioch, where two well-dressed men pilfered the ten-cent slot-machine from its fixtures and disappeared in a Pontiac with their loot.

The bandits entered the tavern, ordered a couple of packages of cigarettes, and nonchalantly went about the business of stealing the machine. As the machine was solidly fixed on its stand, one of them lighted a cigarette, strolled calmly out to the car while his mate served as master of ceremony within the room, and returned with the necessary tools to knock the "box" from its fastenings. Nothing else in the place was disturbed—not even the five-cent machine standing beside the stolen "box"—and the cigarettes were paid for!

MILLBURN BANQUET FEATURES FAMILIES WITH GENERATIONS

"It Can Be Done" Is Key-note of Biennial Affair

Three-and-four-generation families featured the biennial mothers and daughters' banquet of the Millburn Congregational church Saturday evening at Millburn Masonic hall.

The families consisting of Mrs. D. B. Webb; her daughter, Mrs. Earl Edwards; granddaughter, Mrs. John Dickey; and great granddaughter, Patricia Anne Dickey of Forest Park, was the only four-generation family present.

Three generations were present in each of the following Millburn families: Mesdames J. H. Bonner, W. A. Bonner, Lewis Bauman, O. Anderson, Bert Edwards, John Chope, Warren Hook, Dayton Marks and E. W. King. Five Great Grandmothers Present. The five great grandmothers who were present were: Mrs. D. B. Webb, Mrs. George Edwards, Mrs. Emily Mann, Mrs. George Larsen of Waukegan who is the mother of Mrs. L. Bauman, and Mrs. F. Christofferson of Chicago, who is mother of Mrs. Bert Edwards.

"It Can Be Done" was the theme of the affair with Mrs. Ray E. Thomas of Waukegan the guest speaker of the evening. In her subject, "Accomplishing the Impossible," she traced how women through the ages, despite frail health, accomplished the seemingly impossible because of high ideals and indomitable courage.

She declared that some of this pioneering spirit was needed to meet problems confronting modern women.

Committees Named. Mrs. J. G. Bonner was general chairman of the banquet with Mrs. Ailing in charge of the program. Miss Ruth Minto served as toastmistress; Miss Grace Denman was song leader with Mrs. Edward A. Martin as accompanist. Mrs. R. J. Bonner was in charge of the dining room and Miss Vivien Bonner headed the ticket sales.

The kitchen committee consisted of F. G. Edwards, chairman; Victor Strang; William Thompson; and D. H. Minto; while the dining service committee was composed of Richard Martin, chairman; Everett Truax; Milton Bauman; Donald Minto; Homer White; Andrew Mall; John Edwards; Glenn and Lloyd Strang; and Lyman and Howard Bonner.

ANTIOCH HOUSING LOAN APPLICANTS GET FAST RESULTS

Home-owners Apply for $48,000 in Last 10 Days; Five Are Consummated

During the last ten days more than $48,000 in applications for loans under the Federal Better Housing Act has been received at the Antioch Better Housing office, investigation of the records disclose.

The total amount is distributed among 53 residents of the community who are planning to modernize and improve the living conditions of their homes. Money has already been received on five of these applications the first of which was considered for approval last week.

Ready for Action. According to information from the regional office of the FHA in which Antioch is located, two of the largest Chicago financial institutions have set aside $10,000,000 for property improvement loans and ten of the largest banks in Wisconsin have notified the local committees of their desire to make FHA loans in northern Illinois.

The rapidity with which these applications are turning into loans and the willingness of the leading agencies to consummate loans in the community indicates a high credit rating among the citizens in the township. If the bank considers the improvement advisable and the property owner able to meet the payments when due, it advances the money on the personal note of the property owner. In most of the applications considered, the records reveal.

Expect Refinanced Mortgages. S. Boyer Nelson, local secretary for the Federal Housing program, explains that while a large number of people are taking advantage of these modernization and improvement loans by "character loans," many more will refinance their mortgages under the long-term plan.

Summer cottages in the Lakes region can likewise be financed under Title 1 of the FHA, Nelson declares, correcting the rumor that such properties did not fall under the list of classifications.

Announce Ladies' Day at Golf Club

Every Tuesday is ladies' day at the Chain o' Lakes Country Club, according to announcement made today by Fred O. Hawkins, seven years' golf professional at the popular golf course. Prizes are awarded winners in each Tuesday's play.

Blind bogey is also a feature at the club for both men and women, the men playing Sunday and the women Tuesday. These games will serve in establishing handicaps for the tournaments to be played late in August.

Rain yesterday slowed up the tournament staged by the Bohemian Bar association.

The lumbermen's and building material dealers' journey held last Thursday was reported to be the best attended in recent years. Over a hundred players took part in the tournament and 140 chicken dinners were served at the clubhouse following play.

Cook is now engaged at the Marino theatre, on Chicago's westside, where he is featured in an all-star variety stage revue. He was M. C. for Public and B. & K. theatres for more than three years and has featured the broadcasts over WMAQ. He won his spot in the theatrical world through his ability to play fourteen musical instruments in addition to singing and dancing. Whenever any member of an orchestra failed to "show," Cook was eagerly called upon to take the vacant spot, be it violinist, cornetist, clarinetist, saxophonist, or what!

"GEORGE" DIDN'T DO IT!

Over at Wonder Lake, just north of McHenry, they are doing things—and going places—in a big way!

Here's what the spotlight of a metropolitan Chicago Sunday newspaper is telling millions of prospective summer resorters about this Wonder Lake:

"Renewed interest in summer home properties is reflected in activities at Wonder Lake. There at this made lake more than twenty new homes have been completed this year and construction is progressing on many others; demands for building sites in the development is reported to be the best in several years. According to W. W. Wood, in charge of the building development, the year's construction bill at Wonder Lake will exceed $200,000. Over a million dollars has been spent on the development which was originally created as a private summer retreat for a group of wealthy Chicagoans. The property is now controlled by the Wonder Lake syndicate. The lake was made a few years ago by damming the Nippersink creek; it has twelve miles of shoreline and is one of the largest 'artificial lakes' in the State."

Here is an example of another community cutting in on hundreds of thousands of dollars spent by the pleasure-seeking people of metropolitan Chicago. And, as if to add insult to injury, the Wonder Lake promoters started with a small stream of water to create their "lake."

Mother Nature endowed Antioch and the surrounding Lakes region with more than 75 thousand acres of water in real lakes—not artificial man-made reservoirs! Still, the people are NOT COMING to our natural Wonderland—merely because they do not know anything about it! True enough—Antioch is a natural playground for these people, and it's located on every highway map published—just a small dot with a lot of snakey lines, designating roads, to take the traffic by—which mean "good-bye" to plenty of cash unless something is done to keep that traffic in the Antioch region.

Concentrated civic interest made Wonder Lake! And it is making the cash register ring merry tunes in that spot!

Just try to picture the ultimate development of the Antioch region with its natural advantage as a gift for the foundation plus intelligent planning and enthusiastic civic interest? It is no task to imagine what can be done. However, they did not "let George do it" over at Wonder Lake—any more than those broad shoulders of "George" will carry on a program for Antioch.

It requires the concentrated enthusiasm and help of every individual in the community to get people into our wonderful Wonderland—and those cash registers will never be overloaded until every individual in the community stops talking about the "scarcity of business this season" and demonstrates the true meaning of concentrated action. Don't you think so?

CAN'T BUY "ON TIME"

County and Township highway officials are forbidden by law to purchase equipment and supplies on the installment plan, Attorney General Otto Kerner has advised State's Attorney R. C. Chappell of Jersey County. Chappell asked if the Jersey County highway commissioner might purchase equipment valued at $2,322.25 with a down payment of $82.50 and the balance in semi-annual payments extending until May 1, 1937.

"You have my thanks for making this inquiry," the Attorney General said, "as my information is that a great many transactions like the above are being consummated. Careless road officials who do not seek advice but act solely on their own initiative, largely supported by liberal doses of the tonic of high-powered salesmanship, are making purchases not warranted by the law nor by the tax-paying ability of those whom they are elected to serve."

"No authority whatsoever is given the commissioner to reach out for two years and make a tax levy caring for obligations accrued during that period. In my judgment this contract cannot be legally entered into and the warrants cannot be issued except for sums already in the treasury, or for which a valid tax levy has been made. Many instances have occurred in which a highway official has obligated his township so heavily that when his successor takes office, there are no funds left to discharge the duty of keeping the roads in repair.

"I know of no better service that officials can render than to faithfully conduct this office within its statutory income. It protects the tax payers, the public and the official."

SAVE THE CONSTITUTION

In the face of all the theorists who would like to subject the United States to fascism, communism, collectivism, and what-not, the Lone Star State seems to still believe that the Constitution, under whose guidance we grew from an unimportant pioneer nation to a world power within a century, is still good enough.

On June 8th, the Young Democrats of Texas went on record as being aggressively opposed to any change that would "destroy the Constitution." At the same time, the organization went on record as favoring abolition of child labor, state codes of ethics to cover working hours and wages and other reforms of a social character, which shows that the Young Democrats are not opposed to change which can be achieved within the limits of the Constitution. They simply realize that the kind of reform activity favored by many present-day officeholders would mean the end of State's rights, the rise of a virtual political autocracy, and the destruction of individual liberties.

On the same day, Democratic Governor Murray of Oklahoma, who "always has taken his coffee black and his democracy straight," said: "The United States will disintegrate unless the constitutional safeguards of liberty are preserved. . . . We are already going to Washington for everything. The trend toward centralization of government will lead ultimately, unless checked, to centralization of wealth and privilege and the establishment of only two classes of citizens—the very rich and the very poor."

The statements from the Young Democrats and from Governor Murray will be seconded by other states. The issue is not one of partisanship—it is one of Americanism. Those who would destroy the Constitution and discredit our Supreme Court, would destroy all that the founders of the country fought and bled for, and left us as our most cherished heritage—personal liberty unshackled by official tyranny.

BACK TO THE FARM

Two recent surveys cast new light on the current status of agriculture.

There has been a small but encouraging rise in value of American farms. Between March, 1934, and March, 1935, values rose in 30 states, declined in but five and remained unchanged in the other 13.

"Back to the Farm" is becoming a reality. When a few years ago, the farm population was being depleted by an exodus to the cities, the trend has completely reversed and streams of people are going from urban to rural areas. A number of reasons lie behind this, such as industrial unemployment, the development of profitable specialty farming, and the desire of immigrants to leave the cities for the land.

In addition, the number of individual farms is on the increase. In New England alone, there were 162,000 producing farms on January 1, 1935, in contrast to 125,000 on April 1, 1930.

All of this speaks well for the future of agriculture and a self-supporting citizenship. It is natural that people should win their living from the land. And the great progress made in developing more scientific farming methods—largely due to the efforts of large agricultural cooperatives—is immeasurably improving the farmer's opportunity to till the soil at a profit. All in all, it is safe to say that the agricultural situation is basically better now than at any time since depression set in.

TO IMPROVE COMMUNITY WELFARE

Today we have a real opportunity to improve the community welfare. The path is all set for a project. Civic pride demands that we look into it open-mindedly and with an eye to the future.

Through the Public Works Administration of the Federal government, there awaits a grant—yes, a gift—of 45 percent of the total cost of a project for the betterment of the people of Antioch.

In simple mathematics, Antioch can have an honest-to-goodness Community Hall and public park by paying a little more than half (55 percent, to be exact) of the total estimated cost of the project.

Furthermore, the government will undertake the entire cost of such an improvement, making it possible for Antioch to receive a loan equaling the 55 percent, for which Antioch will repay at the low interest rate of 4 percent.

Is there any better opportunity presenting itself to Antioch for supplying a much needed Community Hall and public park?

"Key to the City"

Giving the key to the city is an old European custom handed down from the days when cities were more like fortresses, surrounded by stout walls, and people could only enter or leave through the gates that were shut tight at sunset. The keys of the gates were heavily guarded, kept by the mayor or military commander, given up only when the city was defeated in battle and the conquerors had a right to their possession.

"Letter" Defined

According to the United States Post Office department: "A letter" is a message, notice or other expression of thought sent by one person to another. It is just as much a letter if sent in an envelope from one to another unsealed as if sealed, or whether in an envelope at all, if it is directed as a letter. If matter conveys live, individual, current information between the sender and the addressee, upon which the latter may act, rely or refrain from acting, such matter is a "letter" within the meaning of the private express statutes.

Japanese "No" Robes

"No" robes, Alan Priest, curator of the metropolitan department of Far Eastern art, explains, are the costumes worn during the presentation of the "No" plays. These were a development of ritual pantomimes and dances. By the fourteenth century they had become definite stage plays, "in which the most precious legends and examples of behavior were set forth with music, chanting, dancing and orations."

Good for Man and Beast

Dogs are credited with the discovery of quinine, one of the most beneficial medicines supplied by Nature. Long years ago, the Incas of Peru noticed that dogs with sniffing noses sought out the bark of the cinchona trees. They'd chew some of it, and the sniffles would stop. The Indians tried it, found it good for colds, and it's been used by man ever since.—Washington Post.

Togua Palm Nuts Edible

In the early stages of formation, the kernels of the togua palm are edible; they are then soft, sweet, and are sought by natives as a part of diet. Squirrels, wild hogs and other animals also eat the soft nuts. After becoming thoroughly ripe, however, the substance is hard, white, fine-grained; it closely resembles the ivory of the elephant tusk.

Alpacas

Alpacas are not as tall as llamas; they have short legs, rather heavy-looking bodies, two to four feet in height. Body and legs are covered with wool which is often six or eight inches long. In some species, says the Washington Post, the wool hangs almost to the ground. The alpaca is larger and heavier than the largest dog; its neck is rather long and thick, and when approached by a stranger the beast pricks up his ears and at times snorts at the intruder, as do llamas.

Hypnotism Defined

Hypnotism is defined as an artificially induced sleep or a trance resembling sleep. Its duration varies with the subject as well as the operator, and so also does the intensity of the sleep. While hypnotic suggestion has been used to some extent medicinally, it has also been employed by others such as stage exhibitors.

The National Bureau of Standards says that in electrical currents the joint resistance of wires in parallel is never equal to the average of the separate resistances, because two wires in parallel always present less resistance to the current than either one alone.

Opportunity

PERHAPS one may say there is no opportunity for him; another, that opportunity is dependent upon personal influence and helpful environment, both of which he seems to lack. Another has some wonderful opportunity of which he takes advantage, and through which he gains success. Opportunities for service may seem to be opened to some while they are closed to others. Sometimes an individual goes to a country or locality other than his own, seeking opportunity to achieve the goal of his desire, seeking to gain that which to him means happiness and success. Another finds his opportunity at home.

What is opportunity, this thing which aids or hinders the progress of man? In a dictionary the root word is given as "before the harbor," and a harbor is a port through which one enters a country; therefore, a gateway. The Psalmist said (118:19), "Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord." Is not the gate to righteousness the ability to think rightly? Jesus opened a great doorway of opportunity to his disciples when, as it is written, he "opened . . . their understanding." He taught them how to think rightly; how to know the truth, to understand and to utilize the power of God. He enabled them to realize their oneness with God, hence their oneness with the nature, qualities, and attributes of perfect Being, the result of which was shown when they took advantage of opportunities to heal the sick and cast out devils.

One may always think rightly, and right thinking tends to attainment. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 193) Mary Baker Eddy has written these inspiring words: "The devotion of thought to an honest achievement makes the achievement possible. Exceptions only confirm this rule, proving that failure is occasioned by a too feeble faith."

If one who has not succeeded in some honest endeavor will search his thought, he may find that what he needs in order to gain success is not so much an opportunity as a stronger faith in God, a firmer conviction of his omnipotence, an increased expectation of receiving, which in turn, inspires greater effort towards attaining the goal already provided by the loving Father. The faith which leads to achievement is founded on the truth that God, good, is all-powerful and His goodness available to all.

It may be that one has for years believed he is the victim of circumstances, or is handicapped by his environment, or, perhaps, is held in bondage to distressful conditions because of lack of health, education, or personal influence. Since God is omnipotent, circumstances have no power to victimize the true thinker; and because God is everywhere, environment or place cannot handicap one who understands the omnipresence of good. And as spiritual man is free, he can never be held in bondage to any material circumstance or condition. Understanding this, no one need remain behind the closed door of false beliefs; he may begin immediately to know and declare the truth regarding the situation. . . . Holding thought steadfastly to the truth leads to realization of the truth, and realization to achievement, thus proving that the door of opportunity is always open. . . .

The gateway of opportunity is open and will ever remain so; but just as there are regulations to be complied with before a ship may enter a harbor, so there are laws to be obeyed as one passes through the gateway of right thinking to the land of opportunity. Not only should one conform his thinking to laws of right, justice, love, but he must obey them. Whatever the door of opportunity one would enter, the requirements are always the same, namely, that the desire be worthy, the purpose honest, and the effort steadfast.

Wherever one is, he may obey the loving counsel of the Master, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness;" to which he added the promise, "and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:33) Mrs. Eddy has written (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 203), "Our thoughts begot our act; as they make us, what we are." Conforming one's thoughts to those of God, good, one may go forward to the attainment of genuine success and happiness. Through the gateway of right thinking one may surely reach any high and honest goal.

One who enters the land of right desire through the door of correct thinking, achieving thereby some worthy purpose, will, as did the Psalmist, "praise the Lord;" for he knows that God is his strength and intelligence, and is therefore giving him the ability to progress.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Brainy Men Needed

The British empire is under the administration of about 1,500 men whose appointments are based solely on their extensive education, each having been obliged to pass the world's hardest examination—on a variety of subjects. One question under psychology is: "Explain and illustrate the ways in which the topic of perception would be approached by the associationist, behaviorist and Gestalt schools respectively."—Collier's Weekly.

The Baptismal Pool

Apparently the baptismal pool did not exist until at least the Fifth century, when it was found necessary, through the growth of cities, to obtain facilities other than the rivers or streams, which had been used up to that time.

The meeting place of General Grant and General Lee at Appomattox is marked by a tablet which bears this inscription: "On this spot Lieut. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, U. S. Army, and Gen. Robert E. Lee, C. S. A., met on the morning of April 10, 1865."

Sally Rand Plays
Kenosha Theatre

Sally Rand, whose fan dance at the Chicago World's Fair two years ago, set up a repercussion heard around the world, comes to Kenosha on Tuesday, July 2nd, for a one day only engagement at the Kenosha theatre, with her own all-star stage show.

Miss Rand will present her new and beautiful bubble dance which she created for the 1934 World's Fair and which she has been performing at the famous Paradise Cabaret on Broadway for the past five months. By special request she will also repeat her world-famous fan dance.

The entire revue, which comprises a company of thirty-five entertainers, Broadway headline acts and ballet beauties, was devised and staged by Miss Rand.

The production numbers include a flashing version of the "Continental"; a ballet spectacle called "Blowing Bubbles" and a Congo rhythm scene. Included in the company are many noted beauties from the "Follies," "Vantiles" and other famous revues. Miss Rand's present tour will complete her theatre appearance for the season after which she plans to go to San Diego, California, to be featured at the World's Fair being held there this summer.

"Flowage Rights"

The expression "flowage rights" refers to the right of overflowing when a dam is built for the purpose of furnishing irrigation or power. The person whose land is overflowed has a right to compensation for any loss. When the right of overflowing a person's land is purchased, this is referred to as flowage rights.

Earliest Stage Properties

Before Shakespeare died there were such stage properties as beds, tables, chairs, dishes, shop ware, and perhaps some artificial trees, mossy banks and rocks. A theatrical manager in an inventory of stage properties (1593) mentions "the little of Rome," which probably was a cloth painted to represent the city.

U. S. Naval Academy Bell

The bell which hangs in the navy yard at the United States Naval Academy was presented to Admiral Perry by Japan on the occasion of the trip made by Admiral Perry to the Orient, which instituted the open-door policy with Japan. This bell is rung only when the Navy beats the Army in football games.

Magnification

Magnification depends on the bending of light in passing from one medium to another. In the magnifying glass the eye is placed near the lens and the rays from a small object are so bent that they appear to be spread apart and to come from a much larger object.

Fisherman's Face Tells Story

WITH two facial expressions, Courtney Ryley Cooper, noted American author, tells the story of the big speckled trout that he first missed and then landed on the world-famous Nipigon River in Northern Ontario. In the center is the trophy which weighed more than five pounds. The sketch shows Virgin Falls on the Nipigon River which yielded the world's record speckled trout. It weighed 14 pounds 8 ounces.

Forced to Stool Girls
In the early days of Latin America each adoring swain, before he could gain his damsel's hand, must perforce join the conducta for his future father-in-law, and even after he had successfully put that through (a year's work without pay), he must buy or steal an Indian girl who should become the attendant of his bride. As Indian girls cost about $500 apiece in the market (far more than most young men possessed), stealing was in order, says the Washington Post. Not till all these things were accomplished could the poor youth really claim his lady-love.

Giant Jungle Animal
Twenty-five million years ago the Gobi desert in eastern Asia was a paradise of woods and waters. Through its jungles ambled the hugest land mammal that ever lived, a giant of flesh nearly 18 feet tall and 80 feet long, rather resembling its modern relative, the rhinoceros. The animal was the baluchitherium, so named because the first fossil remains were discovered in 1911 in Baluchistan.—Literary Digest

LAKE VILLA

Mrs. Horace Culver and Jean were Waukegan visitors Saturday afternoon.

Dalbert Sherwood, in CCC at Glenview, came home Saturday for a short visit with his mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson of Chicago have opened their cottage on the north side of Cedar Lake.

Miss Langford, a public school teacher in Topeka, Kansas, was a guest of her cousin, Rev. and Mrs. DeSolms at the parsonage for a few days this week on her way to New York where she would sail for Europe on a vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sherwood of Dunedin, Florida, came last Friday for a few months' stay at their home here.

Mrs. B. J. Hooper and daughters, Dorothy, and Lorraine, also Mrs. Hooper's sister, Mrs. Eleanor Kunzer, who were called to California by the illness and death of Mrs. Hooper's and Mrs. Kunzer's father, came home last week. They remained long enough in the West to attend the World's Fair at San Diego, and see many other wonderful sights of the West, besides going down into Mexico.

The descendants of Albert and Corena Knappe, pioneers of Lake county, held a family reunion and picnic at the home of Mrs. Hazel Dibble at Petite Lake last Sunday and sixty-two responded to roll call and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. This is an annual affair and W. Lee Knappe of Chicago is chairman of the group for the coming year. Many changes take place each year, additions are made by birth and marriage and some leave never to return, but such is the way of life. Mrs. Mary Knappe of Grayslake, 82, was the oldest one present and Nancy Ruth Sheehan, of Lake Villa, 5 months old, the youngest. It was planned to add some interesting features to next year's gathering.

An E. & J. resuscitator and inhalator has been added to the equipment of the local fire department, thus adding a great deal to the efficiency of the department in cases of drowning and accidents. The machine, which is very modern and is highly recommended, was purchased by the village and delivered last Saturday when a demonstrator gave instruction to a group of firemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Culver, Jean Culver and a girl friend from Morris, Ill., who is her guest for a week or so, enjoyed a trip to the Brookfield Zoo on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed McLaren of Chicago spent Wednesday of this week with the Frank McLaren family here.

Miss Marjorie McLaren was eight years old last Thursday and a number of her small friends came in to help her to celebrate the occasion. Her mother served refreshments for the group which added to their enjoyment.

Clifford Nelson of Waukegan was a business visitor in the village on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seeger, and the daughter, Mrs. Ira Bailey and daughter of Cleveland, Ohio, drove to Beloit and Rockford on Sunday to visit friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Nelson were pleasantly surprised last week Thursday when a car containing Mrs. Nelson's mother, Mrs. Mattie Patterson of St. Louis, her sister, Mrs. Bertie Roundtree, also of St. Louis, and another sister, Mrs. Frank Taylor and husband of Little Rock, Arkansas, drove into their yard. Mrs. Patterson, who is nearly 90 years old, stood the trip from St. Louis remarkably well. They remained until Saturday morning and Miss Lena Nelson returned with them to visit in St. Louis and Little Rock for a few weeks.

Mrs. H. J. Perry entertained her bridge club at her home last Friday at a luncheon at one o'clock, and Mrs. Gene Sheehan, Mrs. William Duncan and Mrs. Fred Hamlin were prizes. Mrs. Keenapple, Mrs. Duncan's mother, of Chicago, who was visiting her daughter, was a guest of the club that day.

Friends of the Rudolph Wendland family who formerly lived here and who owned and operated the Peterson store, will be interested to hear of the marriage of their daughter, Florence, last Saturday at Elmhurst, which has been their home ever since leaving Lake Villa. She and her husband will live in Oak Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller attended the marriage of their son, Clarence, in Chicago on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 at the church at 23rd St. and Clarence avenue, to Miss Margaret Doolley of Chicago. Owing to the death of the bride's mother a short time ago, only a few relatives and friends attended the ceremony. The bride was dressed in white chiffon with veil and carried white roses. A reception and dinner was held for the bridal party at the home of the bride's sister in Chicago following the ceremony, and the happy couple will go to housekeeping immediately in an apartment which was already prepared for them in Chicago. Clarence has lived here all his life and has many friends who wish him and his bride all the happiness possible.

E. K. Harl, cashier of the local bank, is absent on sick leave for a while and his place at the bank is being taken by a man from Fox Lake. Mrs. Mary Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller entertained a family party at their home on Cedar Lake last Sunday in honor of Mr. Miller's birthday, and a jolly time was spent. The local fire department was called at midnight Saturday to save

Baby Clinic Head Votes For Pineapple Juice; So Do Babies

THAT'S a pretty tall drink for the young man in the high chair. But, the doctor says, it's good for him. It's natural pineapple juice, and the little guzzler has the reputation of never having turned down a drink of it.

Of course, he gets his spinach, too, but he'll tell you it's the pineapple juice that gives him the appetite for the things that are good for him but which he doesn't like so well.

The young man in the high chair is shown in company with some of the hundreds of babies in Philadelphia who are enjoying the benefits of natural pineapple juice through the courtesy of a women's organization in which Mrs. J. Hampton Moore, wife of the Mayor, is one of the leaders. They presented the juice to the Baby Welfare Association which conducts free clinics throughout the city.

Dr. Leon Caplan, chief medical adviser of the clinic, is enthusiastic in his praise of pineapple juice in the baby's diet. The juice, which was presented to the clinic, is recognized as a good source of valuable vitamins and minerals, and has received the seal of acceptance of the American Medical Association.

Here's News for Meat Lovers

THERE is a shortage this year, so they say, of two and a half million pounds of meat. There are fewer hogs on the farms than at any time within the last fifty years, and the largest decrease in the number of cattle that has ever occurred in any one year.

Does that mean that good meat diners are going to become a rarity? If it does, now is a good time to clip the following menu for a good meat dinner for six people which costs only about $1.50. Fortunately there is still a lot of nutritious corned beef in cans, and a plentiful supply of pineapple. This last is a fortunate circumstance, too, as pineapple is helpful in the digestion of meats.

How Do You Like This?

With that preamble, what do you think of the following menu and recipes? Wouldn't you invite some pretty good friends of yours to help you eat it? The prices, of course, are only approximate, as the costs of foods vary in different localities, but you'll find them a fairly accurate guide.

Thackeray Born in India

buildings which were in danger from a burning barn on the place occupied by Otto Hassman and Harvey Meyer. Fire was caused by an oil burner in a chicken brooder and being of frame construction, it burned quickly, but other nearby buildings were unharmed. Mr. Hassman was able to get his car out, but he lost a number of small chickens in the blaze.

The Ladies' Aid Society enjoyed a pleasant outing at the H. Potter home in Waukegan last Wednesday and in spite of drizzling rain, twenty-seven enjoyed the picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiede of Chicago were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hooper on Sunday.

Only certain officials at Washington are entitled, by statute, to the privilege of drawing books for home use. Special permits to borrow books are freely issued by the librarian, however, to persons engaged in research, and there is also maintained an interlibrary loan system by which books may be loaned to other libraries for use of those engaged in serious investigation.

Hints for Motorists

Director, School of Automobiles, International Correspondence Schools

A HANDY grease gun for your transmission or differential can easily be made from an old tire pump. Cut the barrel down to a convenient length. Whittle a round wooden plug to fit the barrel. Drill a hole in the center of the plug, insert a short length of brass tubing, and force the plug into place in the barrel. Internal suction of the pump plunger will draw in the grease.

A blowtorch will usually loosen nuts that cannot be loosened with a wrench or by soaking with kerosene. If the flame is directed on the nut for a few minutes the nut will expand away from the bolt. When working on the heated nut be sure to use a tight-fitting wrench, so as not to damage the hot metal.

FLOWERS ARE WORN ON SPRING SUITS

Ascots of Blooms, Scarfs and Garlands Popular.

The fashion for flowers in even adopted by women wearing severe tailored frocks. With a costume consisting of a stunning suit in rough green accessories, bright pink carnations were placed on the lapel. Some of these beauties achieved a smart, mannish look with white or red carnations adorning black and white mixture weathers or plain gray suits.

A fashion leader wore carnations with a brown tweed costume and felt hat. At front of her coat collar, a simple turnover one close to the throat, was fastened a spray of dark red carnations, five or six large ones, giving as much color as would a scarf. There are many other posy trappings. The downtown stores are already well stocked with displays of the white pique flowers which appeared at the openings.

A LA "LITTLE WOMEN"

By CHERRIE NICHOLAS

It's chic to be quaint. Which applies to the "Little Women" fashions that are registering so smartly in the season's style parade. The important thing about this new vogue is that one must look the part even to the hairdress. "Bangs" is the answer, curled primly to top a smooth brow, with hair brushed slick back over the ears as here pictured. You can see how readily this hairdress blends into the scheme of things, a fact which impressed the delighted audience which attended a recent style revue held under the auspices of the Chicago wholesale market council, where the charming gingham-checked silk dress here shown with its big sleeves and wide organdie ruffles proved one of the big sensations of this style event. The idea of coiling hair to the tune of the costume was staged in other fascinating numbers.

Navy Blue Big Favorite in Season's Late Styles

To date navy is top, navy relieved by white, quantities of white, both under the chin and often above it, since many hats have white bands or something white about them.

One of the season's new combinations—navy and chambray—is gaining ground, and navy footwear may also be said to be doing so.

The downtown shops report active interest in taffeta street dresses, some with jackets. Agate navy scores for jacket costumes and for redingotes, the dresses of which are taffeta, and for the redingotes wool.

It is, as has been predicted for months, a big suit season, which makes it also a big blouse year.

Closure in U. S. Senate

In the senate, debate had been unlimited, but a filibuster in 1903 by Senator La Follette of seventeen hours, by Senator Smoot, in 1915, and other lesser filibusters, caused the senate to adopt a closure rule in 1920, providing that in the event of a threatened deadlock on a measure, sixteen senators might present a petition that the amount of debate on the measure be limited and the bill brought up for action. This petition would be presented to the senate floor and if concurred in by two-thirds vote the measure would be considered and each senator limited to one hour's debate on the measure.

Charing Cross Name

Up to the time of Charles II. Charing Cross stood among the fields in London. The name is derived from the Saxon word charynge, meaning a turning. In 1291 Edward I erected a Charing the last of 15 crosses which marked the route of the funeral procession of his wife, Eleanor, from Grantham, Lincolnshire, to Westminster. The cross was taken down in 1817. A modern memorial stands to the Charing Cross station yard. It will be remembered that Eleanor journeyed with Edward I to the Holy Land and sucked the poison from a wound dealt her husband by a Moor.

City in Two Parts

Carving in an elongated "S" around the city of Budapest the Danube divides it into two parts, linked by seven graceful bridges. On one side lies Pest, flat as a table, modern, the center of government, business and amusements; across the river is Buda with its castle—a place of quiet homes, of cobble streets and memories that go back a thousand years.

First Railway Rails

Wooden rails for use in mines were used as early as 1655 on a tramroad near Harvard's Castle company, Durham, England. The first use of iron plates to strengthen the wooden rails was at the Whitehaven collieries, Cumberland, England, in 1738. In 1754, iron plate rails were laid on a wagon way, connecting the Coalbrookdale iron works in Shropshire with additional smelting furnaces at Horseley. The first iron rail over which a train operated by a steam locomotive was on the Stockton & Darlington railway, England. This road was opened September 27, 1825.

War Use of Mammoth Cave

Mammoth cave has a historical background. In the War of 1812 used by the Union as a storehouse for salt peter—excretory deposits from the bats that inhabited the cavern. Salt peter was also mined hydraulically here during the Civil war. The wooden pipelines are in a good state of preservation.

City of Five Flags

Mobile, Ala., is known as the City of Five Flags because of its history under five jurisdictions, as follows: France, 1702-1763; Great Britain, 1763-1780; Spain, 1780-1813; Confederacy, 1861-1865, and United States, 1813-1861, 1865.

Treat the Family

There is a tendency among housewives to lay aside the family silver for special occasions such as Sundays, holidays and "company days." Very often when company does arrive unexpectedly, our lovely silver is not fit to use. It is tarnished and dull looking—it has all the earmarks of being stored away for such an occasion.

Considering that most of our good silver is guaranteed for a period of twenty or thirty years—which does not necessarily mean it will wear out during that time—setting the silver aside is not such a practical idea after all. Moreover, if you are fortunate enough to own a heavy set of sterling silver ware, which is guaranteed for a life time, you can see for yourself the uselessness of trying to save it. Why not enjoy the beauty, the service of that silver throughout a lifetime?

Successful Recipes for Warm Weather

Tempting Fish Steaks

(serves 6)
3 tablespoons of butter
4 tablespoons of flour
1 cup milk or chicken broth
1/2 cupful of finely diced and cooked celery
1/2 cupful of finely diced and cooked green pepper or pimiento
1 teaspoon minced onion (may be omitted)
2 cupfuls of finely flaked salmon or tuna fish

1 beaten egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 cupful fine dry bread crumbs.
Melt the butter add the flour and smooth to paste. Add the milk and cook until a smooth sauce is formed, stirring occasionally. Add the drained celery and green pepper, then the onion and flaked fish. Mix thoroughly and cool. Drop spoonfuls of mixture into crumbs. Dip in the beaten egg diluted with milk, then into the crumbs again. The steaks may be molded into flat cakes, cutlet shape, or into cylinders or pyramids. Heat a generous amount of fat in a deep skillet and add the steaks. Fry a golden brown and drain on a brown paper. Serve with cucumber jelly.

Timely Suggestions About Peas

SOMETIMES you get tired of recipes with a multitude of ingredients and many different things to do. But, unless your taste varies widely from that of a large part of the public, you never get tired of peas. So it occurred to us to collect some simple ways of preparing this popular and excellent vegetable, and here they are:

Peas in Cream Sauce: Make a white sauce of one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour and the liquor from an 11-ounce can of peas with enough milk added to make three-fourths cup liquid. Season with salt and pepper and add the peas. Heat and serve. Serves four.

Scrambled Eggs and Peas: Turn one cup of canned peas into a skillet. Season with salt, pepper and a few grains of sugar. Cook gently until all the liquor is absorbed. Add one tablespoon butter, and, when melted, pour in five lightly beaten eggs and five tablespoons milk. Cook gently, stirring until creamy. Serves four.

In Salads, Too

Peas and Lettuce Salad: Drain a cup of canned peas and marinate them in two tablespoons French dressing for at least an hour. Add one-fourth cup chopped walnuts, one-fourth cup crisp shredded lettuce and one-fourth cup mayonnaise, and mix lightly together. Serves four.

Some People Believe It

If you can find the end of a rainbow, you will be rewarded by also finding a pot of gold at the spot where the rainbow touches the earth.

For a SAFE FOURTH serve plenty of SANE FOOD

AN eminent psychologist tells us that we are going through a time of change, and that people who slump down in their chairs and worry about the future are going to be all worn out before the change is effected. His advice is to do the next thing cheerfully, and let events take their course. One reason why we should celebrate the Fourth of July cheerfully is that the form of our government has not changed. So let's do it right merrily, and hope that it will not change for another hundred and sixty-four years, although history does not record any form of government that has lasted that long. Do you realize that our form of government in these United States has lasted longer than that of any other country without definite change?

A Sane Celebration

It is not necessary to burn fingers, blister noses or endanger young eyes in order to show how enthusiastic we are over our own form of government in contrast to the dictatorships and social experiments that are going on beyond the seas. So be sure to have only the safest of fireworks, and grown-ups to supervise the youngsters when they set them off.

One way to keep your celebration safe and sane is to devote as much as possible of it to the eating of safe and sane foods. There are few things that, even the most adventuresome youngsters would rather do than eat. In order to help you with this idea, here are suggestions for a menu and recipes that will take a lot of eating and do no harm. It is meant, of course, to serve outdoors, but if Nature is unkind and the skies weep, it will taste just as good in the house.

Chicken and Celery Sandwiches
Pineapple Wheel Sandwiches
Orange and Green Ribbon Sandwiches
Chocolate Flip
Prune Ice Cream
Iced Sponge Cake
Suck Candy

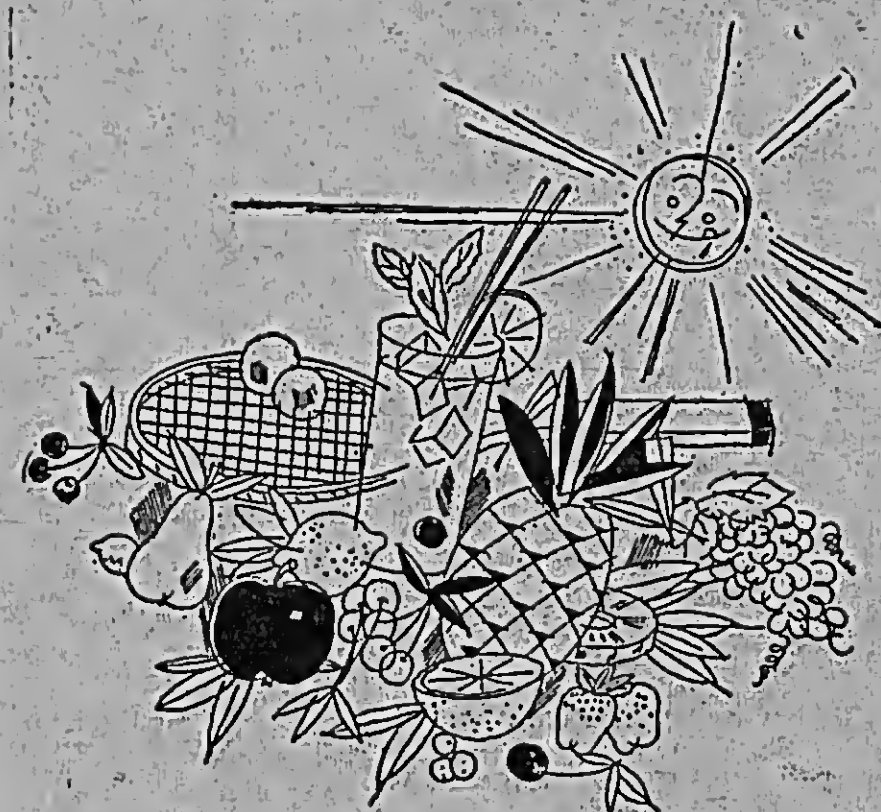

Pineapple Pineapple Sandwiches: Mash two packages cream cheese well, and add one cup well drained crushed pineapple. Add one-fourth cup chopped walnuts, and one-fourth cup chopped pimiento. Remove crusts from loaf of bread and cut in thin slices lengthwise. Spread with softened butter, then with the filling. Roll up tightly like a jelly roll, wrap in a damp cloth and place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Slice crosswise into pinwheels. Makes 25 to 30 sandwiches.

Orange and Green Ribbon Sandwiches: Drain contents of one 10-ounce can spinach well, add two chopped hard-cooked eggs and moisten with a little mayonnaise. Moisten one cup shredded raw carrot with mayonnaise. (You will need one-half cup mayonnaise in all.) Remove all crusts from loaf of whole wheat bread, and cut in four slices lengthwise. Spread slices with softened butter, then put together with the fillings like a layer cake, having the first layer of spinach, the middle of carrot and the top of spinach. Wrap up the whole loaf in a damp cloth and place in refrigerator until time to serve. Then cut crosswise into sandwiches. Makes about twenty-four.

Safe and Sane Sweets
Chocolate Flip: Mix together two cups evaporated milk, two cups water, two-thirds cup canned chocolate syrup and two-thirds cup pineapple syrup, from the crushed pineapple used in the sandwiches, and shake or beat until frothy. Pour over ice cubes or cracked ice in glasses, and serve with straw. Makes eight glasses.

Prune Ice Cream: Combine two cups condensed milk, one and a fourth cups bottled prune juice, one-fourth cup evaporated milk, and two tablespoons lemon juice, and beat until well blended. Beat one cup cream to a custard, add and turn into refrigerator trays. As mixture freezes, beat once or twice with egg beater. Make eight servings.

For That Royal Thirst

This world is so full of a number of things
That I think we should all be as thirsty as kings!
But we've lots of drinks—fizzes and rickys and slings
And cordials and punches to give our thirsts wings!

A ROYAL thirst is the kind that develops on a hot, dusty day after a long hike, a prolonged set of tennis, a ten-lining game of baseball, or something like that. On that principle many of us who are far from being royalists can develop many a royal thirst these torrid summer days.

However, as the above parody points out, we have many more means of alleviating these thirsts nowadays than even the mightiest monarchs of the past.

Fine Fizzes

Four Fruit Fizz: Have the juice from a No. 3 can of fresh prunes; one cup canned pineapple syrup; one cup orange juice; one-fourth cup lemon juice and two bottles charged water ice cold. Mix together and serve over cracked ice. This makes sixteen punch glasses.

Loganberry Fizz: Boil two and a half cups water and three-fourths cup sugar three minutes, cool and add one-half cup lemon juice and a cup of canned loganberries. Ice well, and, just before serving, add one pint bottle ginger ale. Makes six glasses.

Cooling Cordials

Sour Cherry Cordial: Simmer one cup of sugar and one cup of water to make a syrup, add two cups tea, one cup orange juice and one-half cup lime juice. Press the red pitted cherries from a No. 2 can through a sieve or run through a food chopper. Add both the cherry pulp and juice. Just before serving, add one quart ginger ale. This makes about three quarts.

Summer Punches

Lime Punch: Dissolve one cup sugar in one quart tea infusion while the tea is hot. When cold, add one 8-ounce bottle lime juice, the syrup from a No. 2 1/2 can apricots and the syrup from a No. 2 1/2 can grapes (reserving the fruits for salads, cocktails, etc.). Just before pouring ice cold into thermos bottles to serve wherever you want outdoors, add three ice cold pint bottles charged water. This makes twelve large glasses, or about twenty-four punch cups.

Prune Punch: Mix together the juice from a No. 3 can fresh prunes, one-half cup bottled lime juice and two cups water. Pour over ice and serve in punch glasses. Makes ten glasses.

Cascadote in Mexico

Cascadote is not widely known to the tanning world outside of Mexico, but it has been used in that country for hundreds of years, and great quantities of it are consumed in Mexican tanneries every year. It has been called the national tanning material of Mexico. The most important point of distribution is Toluca, and the state of Guerrero produces over 500 tons a year. The tanning content of cascadote is very high, running up to 65 per cent.

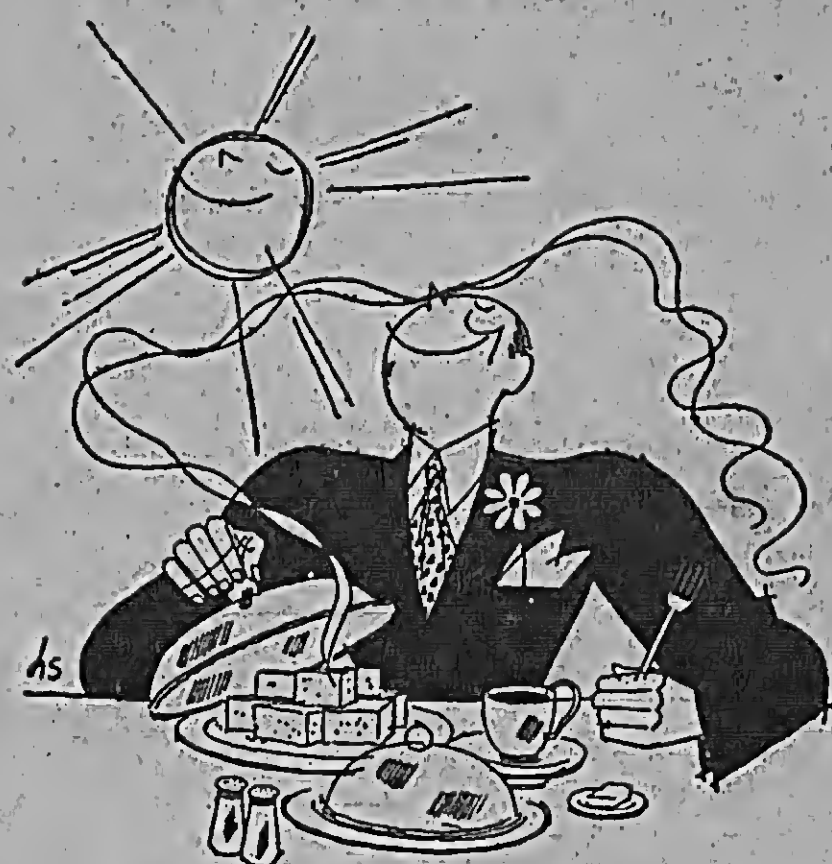

The Cherokee Alphabet

The Cherokee alphabet was invented by Sequoyia between 1800 and 1821. It was the product of his contact with white civilization. It was accepted by the Cherokee nation and thousands were soon able to read material prepared in their own language.

Prevents a Great Flood

If all the ice in the North and South polar regions were to melt at the same time it would result in the raising of the ocean levels at least 150 feet.

BREAKFAST

Begins Business And Makes or Breaks the Day

EVERY morning in his office a man begins doing business on the breakfast that he has eaten that day. If it was a good breakfast, with also fresh vacuum packed coffee, and other foods that appealed to him, he's all set for a successful day. But if it was one of those unimaginative breakfasts, so like yesterday's and tomorrow's that it's hard for him to remember what he ate, he won't be feeling so peppy and well.

So why not plan your breakfasts in advance, not only for variety's sake, but for the sake of the family budget? That won't be so prosperous either if it's one of those monotonous breakfasts, for the breadwinner of the family won't be able to "bring home the bacon", and that's a mighty nice thing to have, at breakfast especially.

How to Plan Them

The way to plan better breakfasts is, first of all to remember that there are a great variety of fruits in addition to oranges and many kinds of cereals beside oatmeal, that eggs make excellent breakfast dishes but not the only possible ones, and that there are many different kinds of hot breads.

Toast tastes fine—occasionally—but how about muffins, biscuits, Johnny cake, corn sticks, fruit bread and rolls? And bacon is a grand breakfast meat, but how about chicken or turkey hash, sausages, chipped beef, corned beef, ham and meat loaf, to say nothing of the fish such as codfish balls, tuna, salmon, mackerel, creamed codfish, codfish flakes and fish croquettes? You can see that a great variety is possible in this meal, and to make it even simpler here's

A Sample Breakfast

Prune and Pineapple Bracer
Fried Noodles with Bacon
Johnny Cake
Coffee

The way to make the bracer is to combine two cups of bottled prune juice with the contents of a No. 2 can pineapple juice and one tablespoon lemon juice. Combine these the night before and let them chill overnight. These proportions will make enough bracer to brace eight.

And, one more word of advice to the busy housewife. This planning of breakfasts with so many different ingredients during a week may seem to you burdensome, but do you realize that a great majority of the ingredients we have mentioned can be bought in convenient canned form?

Salvador's Chief Product

Coffee is the principal agricultural product of Salvador, leading both in amount and value among national exports, of which it makes up from 70 to 80 per cent of the total.

Ah, It Was Then

"Our ancestors," said H. H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "were able to speak with severity because they preferred firecrackers to cannon and flew kites instead of bombing planes."

City Named for Vice President

The only Vice President of the United States to enjoy the distinction of having a large city named in his honor was George Mifflin Dallas, who was President Polk's running mate in 1844. Later he was appointed by President Buchanan minister to England. He was the able son of an able father, Alexander James Dallas, secretary of the treasury under James Madison—Cincinnati Enquirer.
